Massage Therapy Treatments

Massage is one of the most ancient methods of healing. A hands-on manual technique can manipulate blood flow, increase muscle tone, detoxify acid waste in the tissues and the muscles, relax the nerves and assist in oxygenating the skin. The ancient culture of China, Egypt, Greece, Rome and India utilized massage as a form of therapeutic medicine, delivering the same types of benefits being sought by clients today. We use aromatherapy-blended oils during all of our massages to help further revitalize the mind and body.

However with the growing diversity of clients, there are many skin conditions that do not benefit from an oil-based product on the skin. To meet these varying needs, we also offer an oil free alternative for acne prone, oily or oil phobic clients.
